White Witch - Jadis, the white witch, considers herself to be Queen of Narnia. Under her power, it is always winter, but never Christmas, in Narnia. Her imposing stature and magic wand strike fear and terror in the hearts of those under her rule. The White Witch forbids anyone in Narnia to even speak the name of Aslan, her nemesis. She is deceptive, controlling, and cruel.

Mr. Beaver - One of the talking animals of Narnia. Mr. and Mrs. Beaver are fiercely loyal to Aslan and resist the tyranny of the Witch; they believe in ancient prophecies and accept that human beings should rule Narnia. Mr. Beaver is among the first of the Narnia citizens that the Pevensie children meet, and serves as a guide to them

After spending a delightful time entertaining Lucy in his home and getting to know her, his bravery overcomes his fear of the witch, and he lets Lucy go.

Fenris Ulf - Fenris Ulf is the vicious wolf who acts as the Chief of the Secret Police under the White Witch. Fenris is bloodthirsty, brutal, and carries out the witch's every command. The actor who is cast as Fenris will be learning some stage combat choreography for the fight with Peter.

Wood Nymphs - The Wood Nymphs are elusive Narnians, who emerge when no one else is around. They will likely dance during scene changes, as well as help facilitate the changes. The Wood Nymphs are important magical/mystical characters who appear throughout the show. They will need to use their body movement and gestures to convey mood within scene changes.

White Stag - A very rare creature who, as legend has it, grants a wish to anyone who captures it. This is a silent character; strong, graceful physical presence is important for this role. This actor will make a featured appearance near the beginning, and then again at the end of the show, and will most likely be dual cast as another character as well.
