SYNOPSIS

Where? An I.H.O.W. in outer space.

When? Whenever.

"I used to hear stories, when I was little, about the safe haven that connects all places, all moments in time, all possibilities of what could be known. Of course, at that point, I had no idea that this place was actually the I.H.O.W.-- Interdimensional House of Waffles-- smack dab in the middle of space."

On an important day for the galaxy's most beloved diner, a black hole appears to wreak havoc.

Will the patrons of the Interdimensional House of Waffles be able to save the day? Or will something even more sinister ruin their plans first?
